To Whom it May Concern,

I am pleased to provide this reference for Gregory Wright, who served as the Teaching Assistant for my doctoral-level course, The Creative and Expressive Arts in Individual and Group Counseling (COUC 792) in the Fall of 2025. Gregory demonstrated exceptional professionalism, creativity, and reliability throughout the term.

In this role, Gregory supported course facilitation with a strong grasp of expressive arts approaches and an ability to engage students with warmth and clarity. His communication was consistently thoughtful and well-organized, and he contributed meaningfully to the learning environment by offering insight, encouragement, and practical assistance with course materials and discussions to students who missed class due to emergency situations.

Gregory's strengths in creativity, attunement, and collaborative work greatly enriched the course and supported both the academic and experiential components that are central to expressive arts pedagogy. He is responsible, motivated, and genuinely invested in student growth.

It was a pleasure working with him, and I am confident he will be an asset in any future professional or academic setting.

Most Sincerely,

Lisa Sosin, Ph.D., LPC, LLP, BACS, FLC
